Farm for Sale

I have for sale a very desirable farm situated on the "Sharpsburg" and Owingsville turnpike, 3 1/2 miles from the former, near Bald Eagle. Two large Tobacco barns recently built on the premises. Large two story dwelling house, good orchard, plenty of timber and never failing water. First-class tobacco land. For further particulars call on my address.

R. R. STONE,

Sharpsburg, Ky.

Announcement is made of the rapid completion of a pictorial work comprising the Lives of the Presidential Candidates on the Democratic ticket, written by the veteran author, Col. Frank Triplet, and published by N. D. Thompson & Co., St. Louis, Mo., and New York. This work is sold through agents exclusively. It is designed, not in giving, exhaustively, the facts in the lives of the candidates, but in presenting their private lives and public services, but to have a more enduring interest, than the ordinary campaign book. To this end the Publishers have engaged on the work a corps of skilled designers and engravers to elegantly and profusely illustrated the scenes and incidents in the lives of these eminent men, now so prominently before the people. Personal anecdotes and reminiscences will constitute a leading and certainly a most entertaining and instructive feature of this timely work.

Col. Triplet has marked ability, and enjoys especial distinction as a Biographical writer. With a keen eye for the facts, his power of analysis, and his keen insight into the philosophy of events and measures, give him special prominence among American writers of personal history. They have given him high rank among American authors, and the public men of the day. This has given him unsurpassed facilities for procuring all the material for the work now in hand. As a book of fascinating interest, beauty and profuseness of illustration, and of comprehensiveness of fact, it will commend itself to every voter.

To the book agents this rare combination of authentic history, pictorial illustration of brilliant authorship, will at once suggest the universal demand it will create, and also the advantage in interest it offers over the ordinary campaign book, and the grand opportunity it offers for profitable agency. We advertised it in another column.

THE TROTTER STALLION,

Bright Chief!

Will be permitted to serve mares the present season of 1884 at my stable, one mile south of Sharpsburg, Bath county, Ky., on the Maysville and Mt. Sterling turnpike, at $15 To insure a Living Colt.

Money due when the colt comes or when the mare is parted with. A lien will be retained on the foal till the season money is paid. Due care will be taken to prevent accidents, but I will not be responsible should any occur. He is sixteen and a half hands high, with fine form, good action, and 7 years old this spring—trots very fast. Grass and care furnished for mares from a distance at reasonable rates. A Choice Chapter:

As hardened as we have become by the constant and unchecked recurrence of crime in our midst, it caused a chill of horror to thrill through this community on Thursday morning last, when it was reported that Steve Mockabee had shot and killed his brother Henry the night before, at the residence of their father, Press Mockabee, in the southwestern portion of this county. The report was so horrible for belief, but was speedily confirmed, and reported in all of its sickening details. Steve was here the most of the day Wednesday, and though drinking some, was not drunk when he left.

His companion, who seems to be a kindred spirit, was Newton Collier. They went by the quiet little town of Stegstone, where they loaded up with mean whisky, and then proceeded to take entire charge of the municipal affairs of the place. They appealed passionately for the authorities to come and arrest them, so that they could make meal sitters of their bodies. As a very funny diversion, they fired two shots at a passing train. It was in some such mood as this that Steve Mockabee arrived at his father's house late on that fatal night. In a rough and boisterous manner he demanded something to eat, which his mother arose from her bed and prepared for him. After eating he went to his room upstairs, but did not remain long. He came back down and demanded more to eat, at the same time taking the shot gun down from the rack and throwing it around in a reckless and threatening manner. Up to this time Henry had remained upstairs, but he now went down in order to try and pacify his brother. No sooner had he entered the room when Steve presented the gun with the remark, "Don't you come near me," and fired. The gun was loaded with squirrel shot and the whole charge entered the left side of the poor boy's abdomen, tearing a gaping hole, into which the hand could easily be thrust. Immediately after the shot, remorse seemed to seize the murderous brother and he was wild in his grief. Physicians were summoned, with whom Henry conversed. He requested them to replace his bowels, which were protruding from the wound, before he died and also to give him something to relieve the terrible pain. He lived from one and a half to two hours after the wound was inflicted.

The participants in this bloody drama are sons of Preston Mockabee, an old and respected farmer of this county and in the great calamity that has overtaken him in his declining years, he has the heartfelt sympathy of this entire community. Henry Mockabee was twenty-five or twenty-six years old and has led a checkered life. For an assumed participation in the murder of Marshal Jas. L. Young, in Mt. Sterling, in the fall of 1878, he was tried, convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for two years; but through the intervention of friends he was pardoned by Governor Blackburn before being taken from the jail. After this he was knocked senseless and his skull fractured by some convicts whom he was guarding on the railroad work in this county. In some portion of the South, while a fugitive, he was compelled to shoot and dangerously wound a man in self defense. With all of his faults he was immeasurably better than his wretched brother, who now lies a prisoner in our jail with hands dripping with his brother's blood.

ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE.
There is an air of mystery surrounding the attempted self destruction of James Best, which leads to the belief that there was a woman at the bottom of it. It was impossible for our reporter to get into the particulars, as I that could be learned Monday was that at Wm. Sled's house, near Spencer church, in Montgomery county, late Saturday evening, Jas. Best shot himself in the head with a pistol, inflicting a wound which the physician pronounced necessarily fatal. Best was a quiet, inebriated and highly respected young tobacco raiser of the neighborhood, and the rash act was quite a surprise to his friends.

SHOOTING THE SQUIRREL AND THEN HIMSELF.
A young man named Seneca Swim, who lives on what is known as the old Tommy Lewis place in the extreme eastern portion of this county, inflicted upon himself, very foolishly, on Friday last, what will, in all probability prove a fatal wound. He was out hunting squirrels and had wounded one which began to climb the trunk of a tree. Under the excitement of the moment young Swim clubbed his gun, which was a double barrel, and began striking at the squirrel and struck one lick too many. The remaining barrel was exploded and the whole charge of shot took effect in his left leg just above the knee tearing the flesh and shattering the bone in a dreadful manner. Amputation will be rendered necessary.

ONE NIG SHOOTS ANOTHER.
Clark Burbridge, a ten year old negro boy, was handling a pistol in a tenant house on Newt. Ratliff's place on Sunday evening, when Smith Jones, an older negro, came in and told Burbridge to hand him the pistol. This he started to do, when the weapon exploded, the ball taking effect in Jones' left side, above the heart and inflicting a very dangerous wound. The shooting was the result of carelessness.

After eight long, weary years of patient suffering, Ida B., oldest daughter of Judge E. V. and Emily Brother, quietly breathed her last at an early hour Monday morning. Tender, loving hands ministered to her wants to the last, and when the soul took its flight from the weary, pain-racked tenement, the family were all gathered there to take a last long farewell of the daughter and sister who had borne up so bravely and uncomplainingly under her long suffering, and to whose every want it had been their pleasure to minister. The last services were performed at the residence Tuesday evening, from which place a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends followed the remains to their last resting place. We extend to the family our heart felt sympathy in their great sorrow.

Here is an example worthy the emulation of other church congregations: The new and elegant M. E. church at Mt. Sterling, costing twelve thousand dollars, was dedicated Sunday by Rev. Mr. Morrison, of Louisville. There was an unpaid balance of some thing over $3,500 still to be raised. After the sermon a subscription paper was passed around and when it had made the circuit of the audience it was found that over $3,700 had been subscribed. Hon. B. F. Cockrell led off with $500.

A fine line of neckwear at Slesser's.
The case of R. A. Mitchell against the county of Montgomery, on charge of venue to this county, is being tried as we go to press. Mitchell sues the county for $1,500 for making a cross index to the suits on file in the circuit clerk's office of Montgomery. The magistrates only offered him $350. It is thought the plaintiff will recover judgment for $800 or $1,000.

In glancing over the indictments returned at the present term of court, our eye fell upon the following: "Commonwealth against Ben Shouse, murder, signed, A True Bill." Then down at the bottom, "Bail $5,000." If ever there was a cold-blooded, diabolical murder perpetrated on the face of the earth, it was the killing of innocent old man Fultz by Ben Shouse, alias Murray.

For the next thirty days Slesser will sell goods cheaper than ever known in this section, to make room for his fall purchases. Close buyers will take advantage of this fact, as they know that Slesser keeps nothing but what is first class in every particular. Call early for bargains.

The grand jury adjourned Tuesday evening, after returning into court 57 indictments, the great bulk of which were for minor infractions of the law, such as carrying concealed weapons, selling liquor &c., &c. There were two indictments for murder, one against Ben Shouse and the other against Steve Mockabee.

Dr. N. F. Pierce having located here for the practice of his profession, offers his services to the citizens of Owingsville and vicinity. He can be found at McIntire's Restaurant, Main street, until he can obtain suitable residence for his family, notice of which will be given.

WANTED.
An experienced dry goods salesman. Must be sober, industrious, and come well recommended. State the salary wanted. None but an experienced man need answer. Address, Lock Box 17, Mt. Sterling, Ky.

A Missionary Hen.

Rev. Harry Henderson had a little talk with us about a hen whose history may be of profit, as it may encourage some good lady to set apart a hen for the heathen. The above mentioned speckled hen only cost twenty cents; laid thirty two eggs last year. Two dozen of the eggs paid for her. She hatched twenty five chickens and only lost three, the remaining twenty-two being sold for $3.30. Being late chickens they only brought fifteen cents each.

Remark: Set your missionary hen earlier in the season. The owner of this religious pullet is Mrs. Frances Cook. Let every woman give one of the best hens in the barn yard to the cause of missions. The result will tell.

The case of the Commonwealth against Jeff Howard, charged with murder, was given to the jury on Thursday evening last after able arguments by Mess Stone and Patterson for the defense and Young and Brooks for the State. Incorporated with the usual instructions in such cases was one on the point of involuntary manslaughter which merely imposes a fine and imprisonment in the county jail or either, in the discretion of the jury. Acting under this latter instruction the jury returned a verdict for $150 against Howard. The verdict is considered a maulin one, well worthy of the unenviable name our fair county—so much worthy of a better fate—bears away from home.

About thirty of the colts of Great Heart, Eck Emmons' fine stallion, were at Sherburne last Saturday to contend for the two premiums of $7.50 each, which he offered for the best horse and mare colts respectively. The premium on the horse colt was awarded to Geo. W. Donaldson, and that on the mare colt to J. J. Fleming, of Bath county, although Mr. Emmons is a Fleming county man. Mr. W. N. Smoot says that for size, form, style and action, this lot of colts could not have been surpassed in the State.

Lee Rice, auctioneer, reports the following sales for Monday, county court day:

One yoke of steers	$114.50

Four yearling steers, $36.40 per head; five short yearlings, $23.25 per head; one yearling, $26.25. There were a good many mule colts on the market, but for a lack of buyers but very few were sold. Prices ranged from $40 to $75. One lot of 105 mountain sheep sold for $189.

Those live, wideawake livery men, Thompson & Ramsey last week placed an elegant new bus on the road from this place to Preston. The "Iva D. Thompson" is a perfect beauty and will prove a joy and a comfort to the traveling public and a source of profit to her enterprising owners. Uncle Jim Davis still handles the ribbons and the brake, which insures safe transit.

The following are the lucky numbers that drew the prizes at Slesser's: No. 101, china tea set; 202, clock and ornament; 303, pepper vase lamp; 404, spoon rack and spoons; 5020, berry stands. Persons holding the above numbers are requested to present them immediately and claim their prizes.

Col. Richard Carr returned Sunday from a visit to Catlettsburg. He rode on the bumpers between the tender and the baggage car as far as Farmers, where he was gently lifted off on the point of the conductor's boot. He was one of the delegates to the late Congressional convention.

Protracted Meeting.

During the last few days Eld. Stafford of this place has been preaching at Reynoldsville. The audiences were large and a deep religious interest took hold upon that community of people. Whole families were brought into the church and the meeting closed with 35 baptisms. Eld. Stafford left here Friday for Harrison county, his former home, to hold a protracted meeting of two weeks continuance. The Christian church in this place is to be thoroughly renovated and the pastor is to be assisted by Eld. Briney of Covington Ky. in a protracted meeting some time in November. Mr. B. is regarded as a very able preacher among the Disciples.

Justice stands appalled, with blanched cheeks and staring eyes, at the remorseless and unheeded march of the red-handed murderer through our county. She has, on bended knee, and with the eloquence of inspiration, plead with our juries to assist, by their verdicts, in building up a public sentiment which would insure to our citizens some security of life and, in case it was wrongfully taken, the sure and speedy punishment of the murderer.

The present state of society in this county is alarming. Men of families do not seem to realize the danger that threatens them, and all hands seem to have become callous to the surroundings. When the next pistol shot will sound the death knell of some father, husband or son, no one can tell. It may come today, or it may come tomorrow, but come it will, and, judging the future by the past, the murderer will enjoy a perfect immunity from all harm. The only remedy for this state of affairs is with our juries. Until they are composed of men who regard their oaths and dare to do their duty, crime will continue to increase in Bath.

NOTICE.

All persons indebted to the undersigned as trustee of L. R. Slesser, will please pay or settle the same by the 1st day of September, 1884; and if not paid or settled by that time I shall be compelled to sue.

Mr. John A. Turner has handed us a copy of the Northern Neck News, from Warsaw, V., from which we clip the following: We see it stated in the Alexandria Gazette, that Mr. Pierson, a farmer near Monaskin wharf, Lancaster Co., has sold 500 bushels of wheat to the Agricultural Department at Washington, for $2.50 per bushel.

Lightning was on a wild hunt for Sharpsburg last Sunday evening. Two stacks of hay belonging to "Brum" Barnes in the edge of town were struck and burned and on the opposite side of town a stack belonging to Judge L. S. Rogers was struck and would have burned had not Mr. Rogers scattered the hay out.

Mr. L. P. DeAtley, a farmer living in the Bethel neighborhood, this county, made an assignment last Friday to Jno. J. Smoot, for the benefit of his creditors. His liabilities are between twenty-five hundred and three thousand dollars, with assets sufficient, it is thought to fully cover this amount.

The Republican Party Forever.

The Republican appeal to the fears of the people would, if heeded, deprive the people of the privilege of changing their executive and lawmakers, and subject them to perpetual bondage to the party in power. If the country is to be driven into electing Blaine and Logan by the lurid pictures of disaster and disorder which a Republican partisan journalist flaunts before their eyes as the result of the election of Cleveland and Hendricks, of course the same bugaboo argument will be resorted to, with similar result, four years hence. The Republican party is growing more corrupt, defiant and arrogant every year. But for all that, it must not be displaced. The civil service may rot in its hands, one official ring after another may be organized at Washington to rob the public treasury; millions and hundreds of millions of taxes may be extorted from the people to tempt the greed of party favorites in the national capital; and criminal trials of distinguished party conspirators may grow into even more ridiculous farces than they already are. But it must all be neckly borne. The corrupt party must be retained in power and permitted to have its way because, forsooth, the election of a Democratic President would be followed by turning some Republicans out of office and putting some Democrats in.

But is there never to be a change? Is the Republican party to be kept in power to the end of the world? There never was a better time for making a change than now, and the men presented by the Democrats to conduct the new order of things are able, patriotic and conservative. When therefore, the Republican horror-mongers tell the people that a Democratic restoration, under the very best conditions, will bring with it an endless procession of calamities, they are simply demanding that the party of Dorsey, Brady and Kellogg shall reign to the end of time.—St. Louis Republican.

Anxious for Father.

"Mamma," said a small boy to his mother, "do you believe every thing papa says?"

"Of course, my child," replied the mother, with wily pride.

"Everything, mamma?"

"Yes, dear, everything."

"Well, I don't."

"Hush, you wicked boy! You mustn't talk so. What did your papa ever say that you couldn't believe?"

"You know that widow on the next square who always looks so sour at us boys?"

"You mean that pretty Mrs. Bonton?"

"She's the one. I heard papa tell her yesterday that she was the sweetest woman in town, and then he gave her a bunch of flowers; and it made me so ashamed to hear him tell such a story that I ran away and wouldn't let him know that I had caught him in it."

"That will do, my child," said the mother, with a peculiar look on her gentle face. "Run out and play, and I will tell your father when he comes in that he must be particular not to destroy his son's confidence in his veracity."

Saw His Son.

"Oh, by the way," he said, after exchanging salutations with a New England bank president: "I saw your son in Paris just before I sailed."

"Yes?"

"Over on bank business. I presume?"

"Yes; it was connected with the bank."

"Had plenty of money?"

"Oh, yes."

"He'll return feeling like a new fellow. Tell you, such a trip braces a man up."

"Yes; I know. Good morning."

"Wonder what ails old Grimes, to carry such a serious face?" queried the returned tourist of a friend on the next square.

"Oh, you don't know, of course. His son skipped out with $50,000 about a month ago, and the old man had to make it good. Be careful to avoid speaking of the young fellow if you meet the old man."—Exchange.

STORIES ON THE ROAD.

Commercial Travelers at a Wayside Inn—Something to Put in a Grip-sack.

"Gentlemen, I almost envy you the positions you fill; your experience of the world; your knowledge of business; the changing sights you see, and all that, you know."

This warmly expressed regret fell from the lips of an elderly pleasure tourist, last August, and was addressed to a semicircle of commercial travelers seated on the porch of the Lindell Hotel, St. Louis, Mo.

"Yes," responded a New York representative of the profession, "a drummer isn't without his pleasures, but he runs his risks, too—risks outside the chapeau of railroad collisions and steamboat explosions."

"What risk for instance?"

"Think, for instance," said Mr. W. D. Franklin, who was then traveling for an Eastern house, and is known to merchants in all parts of the country: "The risk—which, indeed, amounts almost to a certainty—of getting the dyspepsia from perpetual change of diet and water and from having no fixed hours for eating and sleeping. I myself was an example. I say was for I am all right now."

"No discount on your digestion?" broke in a Chicago dry goods traveler, fighting his eyes against

"Not a quarter per cent. But I had to give up traveling for a while. The dyspepsia ruined my paper. Finally I came across an advertisement of Parker's Tonic. I tried it and it fixed me up to perfection. There is nothing on earth, in my opinion, equal to it as a cure for dyspepsia."

Messrs. Hiscox & Co. of New York, the proprietors, hold a letter from Mr. Franklin stating that precise fact. Parker's Tonic aids digestion, cures Malarial Fevers, Headaches, Coughs and Cold, and all chronic diseases of the Liver and Kidneys. Put a bottle in your valise. Prices, 50c and $1. Economy in larger size.

AN EXTRAORDINARY OFFER.

To All Wanting Employment.

We want Live, Energetic and Capable Agents in every county in the United States and Canada, to sell a patent article of great merit, on its merits. An article having a large sale, yielding over 100 percent profit, having no competition, and on which the agent is protected in the exclusive sale by a deed given for each and every county he secures from us. With all these advantages to agents, and the fact that it is an article that can be sold to every householder, it might not be necessary to make an "extraordinary offer" to secure good agents at once, but we have concluded to make it to show, not only our confidence in the merits of our invention, but in its salubility by any agent that will handle it with energy. Our agents now at work are making from $150 to $900 a month clear, and this fact makes it safe for us to make our offer to all who are out of employment. Any agent that will give up business a thirty day's trial and fail to clear at least $100 in this time, above all expenses can return all goods unsold to us and we will refund the money paid for them. Any agent or General Agent who would like ten or more counties and work them through sub-agents for ninety days, and fail to clear at least $750 above all expenses, can return all unsold and get their money back. No other employer of agents ever dared to make such offers, nor would we if we did not know that we have agents now making more than double the amount we guaranteed, and that two sales a day would give a profit of over $125 a month, and that one of our agents took eighteen orders in one day. Our large descriptive circulars explain our offer fully, and these we wish to send to every one out of employment who will send us three cent stamps for postage. Send at once and secure the agency in extraordinary offer. We would like to have the address of all the agents, sewing machine solicitors and carpenters in the country, and ask any reader of this paper who reads this offer to send us at once the name and address of all such they know. Address at once, or you will lose the best chance ever offered to those out of employment to make money.
